HUMBOLDT – Humboldt County Board of Supervisors Chair Rex Bohn's support of a controversial Northern California biomass project is being challenged as other supervisors are against it.

The division was readily apparent at the close of an Oct. 29 hearing on a wood pellet manufacturing and export project slated for Tuolumne and Lassen counties.

The project's environmental review is led by the Golden State Finance Authority, which is affiliated with the Rural Counties Representatives of California (RCRC).

Bohn is the board's RCRC representative and is also a board member of Golden State Natural Resources, which was formed by RCRC and is the biomass project's manager.

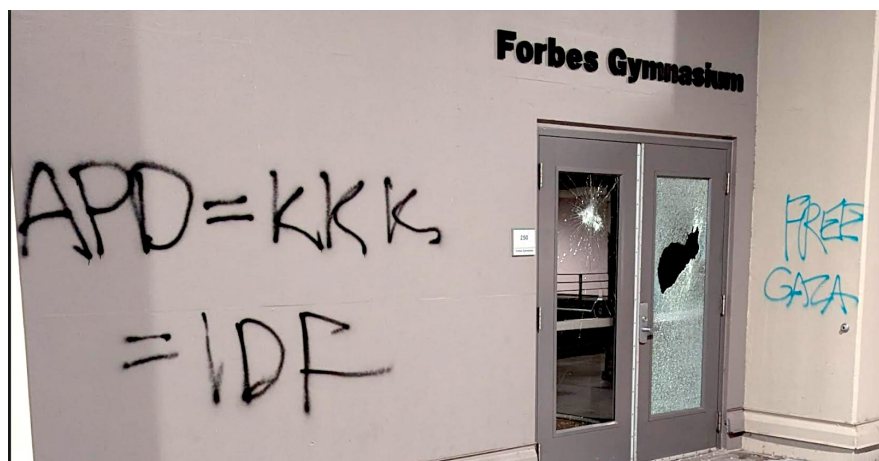

Before the Board of Supervisors was a proposed letter requesting an extension of the project's Draft Environmental Impact Report public comment period.

HUMBOLDT – Humboldt County's Board of Supervisors is taking what's described as a potential "first step" toward police oversight, with formation of an advisory group.

At the Oct. 29 supervisors meeting, the board was updated on how the county is following through on a Grand Jury recommendation for a Citizen's Oversight Committee.

A “working group” made up of supervisors Natalie Arroyo and Michelle Bushnell, County Administrative Officer Elishia Hayes and Sheriff Billy Honsal have met and agreed that a “Sheriff’s Advisory Council” should be formed.

Honsal has said he's not in favor of an oversight committee because he believes it's unnecessary.

The advisory council would have limited public involvement but its work will include review of what a written staff report describes as “critical incidents” and researching the viability and organization of oversight

Apply for a seat on the Arcata Planning Commission

CITY OF ARCATA
ARCATA – The City of Arcata is seeking community members to apply for an opening on the Planning Commission.

Planning Commissioners have a direct impact on Arcata's future. The commission makes decisions on city development plans, projects and land use regulations, which makes its role especially vital to the community.

The commission will make decisions on future housing and in-fill development, consider recommendations on major policy and assist the development of new regulations to implement development plans throughout Arcata.

Community members who wish to apply for a seat on the commission should have interest in learning all areas of city planning, development and historic preservation.

While a technical and professional background in planning and related fields is helpful, sound judgment and critical thinking are a priority.

Applicants must live within Arcata city limits or live or work in the Arcata planning area to be considered. Everyone with an interest and a willingness to serve the community is encouraged to apply.

For more information or to apply for a vacancy on the Planning Commission, visit cityofarcata.org or call (707) 822-5953.

The faeries had a great time on Halloween and the usual number of gates, advertising signs, etc., were badly mixed up during the midnight hours. Even identities became slightly mixed, and several Arcata young ladies donned clothes belonging to their brothers or some other members of the family, and made a tour of the Plaza both by auto and on foot. Gus Peterson made his appearance in the character of Mrs. Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, and carried it off well.

SIX RIVERS NATIONAL FOREST
SIX RIVERS NAT'L FOREST – Christmas tree cutting permit season is soon upon us. Cutting a holiday tree is a special tradition to share with family and friends while helping to maintain a healthy forest.

For every tree that is found, cut and carried home as a holiday fixture, you're also contributing to the overall forest health. Christmas tree permits are a unique opportunity for citizens to help thin densely populated stands of small-diameter trees – the perfect size for a Christmas tree.

Purchase your Christmas tree permit before your visit to Six Rivers National Forest. Permits can be purchased in person at your local ranger district office or online through Dec. 23, 2024.

Follow tips and guidelines for the cutting area, and ensure you are prepared for a safe and fun forest adventure. Online passes can be purchased at this link starting Friday, Nov. 1, 2024:

recreation.gov/tree-permits/74098ae2-ebcf-11ea-b83f-6e0e43d29f74

Permits are $10 each, with a limit of two permits per household. Maps of cutting areas will be provided. Individuals must be 18 or older to purchase a permit. The Forest Service accepts cash, check, or credit/debit cards as payment. All sales are final with no refunds.

It's an extra special season to be a fourth grader! Current fourth grade students can participate in the Every Kid Outdoors program and are eligible for a free Christmas tree permit with the use of the special pass.

This program is a White House initiative that introduces 4th graders to the public lands in their own backyards and beyond.

To receive a free pass, 4th graders or their teachers can sign up at everykidoutdoors.gov/index.htm.

Parents and guardians, don't forget to bring the pass with you to get your free tree cutting permit!

Easygoing sweetie siblings Winston and Fletcher arrived separately

On a late afternoon in July, Redwood Pals received voicemail from a man who had adopted a puppy and was having second thoughts about that. I called back to see what was up and found out that the gentleman was living in his vehicle (which wasn't running) and had adopted a puppy on a whim after a friend had adopted another from the litter.

I tried to find out where the puppy had come from, but this fellow had been in the backseat of the car and didn't know Arcata very well. I gave up on the idea of trying to find the rest of the litter and decided the best thing to do was just get in the car and go get the puppy. When I arrived at the property in Trinidad he was holding this beautiful white puppy with ice blue eyes.

"Is your puppy deaf?" I asked. "Oh no" he said.

I said I was asking because that blue eye, white fur combo often results in sensory deficits in sight or hearing. He assured me she was just fine. After offering him the $40 that he had paid for her – they were asking $50 or $100 with papers (!) – which he declined, I put the puppy in the crate I'd brought and headed home.

This tiny white puppy girl let out the loudest stream of outrage I have ever heard! I considered pulling over, but then what? I covered one ear and got home as fast as possible. My dogs were fine with her, and long story short, Francesca has become one of our pack.

She does have limited hearing but is very attentive and very smart, so communicating has not been a problem.

In September, two white puppy brothers came into the shelter. At first I thought it was just a coincidence that they looked similar and were about the same age as Frannie. As I've come to know them, there is no doubt that these are her brothers. Working backwards, the limited info her first owner gave me could definitely match up with where these boys came from.

Winston and Fletcher are just as sweet and funny as Frannie! They have gotten along well with everyone they have met, both dogs and people and have a good start on leash manners.

These two received a slightly different genetic mix and can hear just fine. Winston received some treatment on his eyelids when he was neutered as the vet thought he had some indications of entropion, where the eyelashes turn in on the eyes. This gives him a bit of a squinty look, but he can see fine and has been an incredibly good sport with the staples. Winston is currently in a foster home which has been great as it gives him lots of time each day without the annoying cone. The foster reiterated that Winston is very sweet and cuddly. Fletcher is still at the shelter and has been a go-to pup for walking with other dogs as these pups have been so nice and easy-going.

The puppies love water (Frannie likes to sneak into the bathtub) but haven't yet learned to love being bathed. They do love the part where they get toweled off though!

As you may have read here and in other places, the shelter is full to bursting, and if you aren't available to adopt, maybe you would consider fostering Fletcher and opening up a kennel at the shelter. These boys are such sweet-tempered fellows; they will make you smile, cuddle up with you on the couch and get along great with other dogs.

Winston and Fletcher are about seven months old. They have been neutered, vaccinated and micro-chipped. They are available through the Humboldt County Animal Shelter and appointments and information are available at (707) 840-9132.

McK man nabbed in Trinidad

HCSO

McKINLEYVILLE – On Tuesday, Oct. 22 at about 10 a.m., Humboldt County Sheriff's deputies were dispatched to the ACE Hardware Store on the 2700 block of Central Ave. in McKinleyville for the report of attempted robbery.

The suspect, later identified as Michael Armas, 49, of McKinleyville, attempted to leave the store with several power tools, and sprayed pepper spray at employees before leaving the scene in a pickup truck. Deputies responded to Armas's McKinleyville residence, where he failed to comply with commands; an arrest warrant was then issued for Armas.

Later on the same day around 8:30 p.m., deputies were dispatched to a residence on the 800 block of Van Wycke Street, Trinidad, for the report of Armas attempting forced entry into the home through the front door. The resident reported that he had never had interactions with Armas before and didn't know who he was. Deputies arrived on scene and took Armas into custody based on his arrest warrant and his most recent attempt to force entry into a residence.

Armas was booked into the Humboldt County Correctional Facility for second degree robbery (PC 211).

McKINLEYVILLE – On Thursday, Oct. 24 at about 7 p.m., Humboldt County Sheriff's Office (HCSO) deputies responded to the report of a robbery at Smug's Pizza on the 2700 block of Central Ave. in McKinleyville.

Employees reported the incident shortly after it occurred, prompting immediate response from deputies in the area. According to the employees, the suspect entered the market and brandished a knife, demanding that the register be opened for him, to which the employees complied.

The suspect then reached into the drawer and took money from the register before fleeing on foot; he was last seen in the area of Reasor Road.

Deputies arrived on the scene to search for the suspect within minutes of the 911 call, but were unable to locate a person matching the given description.

The suspect is described as a Hispanic male adult with dark complexion and brown eyes. He was last seen wearing a black ski mask, red and black plaid hooded sweatshirt, and pants (unknown color). If anyone has information about this crime or a potential suspect, they should contact HCSO.

Oversight | A costly, possibly cost-effective approach

The Sheriff's Office will enlist applicants for the council and they'll be "vetted" by the working group, said Hayes. The council will have up to seven members.

Asked by Board Chair Rex Bohn if Honsal agrees with the plan, Hayes said the council is "the sheriff's idea."

Bohn questioned the need for it, saying the sheriff is an elected position and existing groups with watchdog duties include the Grand Jury.

He warned of costs, saying the City of Eureka's oversight-type group "does pretty well" and "I saw their consultant said, 'We're doing a really great job – hire us for another year.'"

He asked why Honsal's

"guidance isn't being followed on this," apparently referring to Honsal's stance on oversight.

Arroyo focused on the council, saying it's recommended by the working group, including Honsal.

The council's work will include "internal process investigations" and "offer the opportunity to get a little bit of outside input outside the law enforcement space but still, it's not the same thing as what the Grand Jury recommended," she continued.

The council's advising would be on "process and procedure" and "building connections in the community," she said.

She added that there will also be "evaluations of other alternatives in case the voters should ever initiate a sheriff's oversight group or in case the board would do that in the future, so we'd have information on the timelines and the costs that other counties have faced."

Supervisor Steve Madrone supports formation of an oversight committee.

"I think this is a great first step but it won't satisfy myself or the public in terms of wanting to have a deeper oversight into critical incidents so we can learn from them and improve," he said.

Doing so "really helps to build public trust," he continued.

Responding to Bohn's comment on consultant costs, Madrone said he's "not sure we can afford not to have this kind of group ...

because we have a lot of lawsuits and they cost a tremendous amount of money and if we can reduce that amount of liability by improving our practices, that's a great thing."

Only receiving the update was up for a vote, which was unanimous, with Bushnell absent.

The Grand Jury's recommendation also includes another oversight option, creating an Inspector General position.

Summarizing financial impacts, the written staff report says, "Should an Oversight Board, Inspector General or both be established there will be significant financial impacts to establishing and staffing those functions."

chelle Bushnell absent, the letter was unanimously approved.

But the proceedings went off-road a bit when Supervisor Steve Madrone proposed going further.

He moved to have the county write a letter in opposition to the project and the motion was seconded by Supervisor Natalie Arroyo.

Bohn questioned the action and suggested it's an affront to the collective will of the rest of the rural counties that make up RCRC.

"This project has been going on for eight years and I think it's a pretty good project because this is what 40 rural counties have agreed upon to help the forest fire situation," he said.

Referring to a term used earlier by Madrone, Bohn said to him, "We keep talking about the big picture but we're only looking at your big picture."

Although he has concerns about the project, Supervisor Mike Wilson had said he's "uncomfortable" with sending an opposition letter at this stage of environmental review.

Further discussion led Madrone to withdraw his motion.

But the opposition talk irked Bohn, who asked County Administrative Officer Elishia Hayes for clarification on whether it's "opening the door" for complaints about the actions of board members appointed to represent the county.

Hayes said supervisors appointed to other boards do represent the county but there is indeed an open door for other supervisors to weigh in.

"Obviously there are times – case in point, right now – where the board is not always in lock step on an issue," she continued.

She said if a supervisor believes a fellow board member appointed to represent the county "has not done that appropriately or disagrees with a vote" then agendizing a discussion on it is an option.

"Great, thank you – fun stuff," Bohn said, noting the tension.

Madrone then talked about how the Board of Supervisors majority has shifted politically and also recalled a recent trespass of his county representation on the Great Redwood Trail Agency's board of directors.

He said Bohn and Bushnell – the board's conservative minority – were invited to be on a panel at a recent Buckeye Conservancy forum on the Great Redwood Trail "when I'm the duly-appointed and unanimously supported boardmember representing the board on the Great Redwood Trail."

Madrone attended the forum and said he asked Bohn and Bushnell if one of them was willing to "step down so I could participate but because you both chose not to, I couldn't participate because of the Brown Act and I had to sit there and just be quiet."

Saying supervisors needed to "pull it back in a little bit," Hayes advised them to stay on topic.

Bohn quickly called for the next agenda item, a closed session on legal matters.

During the hearing, representatives of environmental groups said the biomass project will be polluting and rich in greenhouse gas emissions.

RCRC's president and lead attorney had described the project as a benefit to forest health and rural economies, and a replacement to overseas coal use.

Supervisors will continue to comment as the project proceeds and Madrone said he intends to agendize a proposed letter expressing the board majority's concerns about it.

EPIC celebrates 47 years of environmental protection

Forest activist Rob DiPerna honored with Lifetime Achievement Award

EPIC
ARCATA — The Environmental Protection Information Center (EPIC) is celebrating 47 years of forest advocacy at its annual Fall Celebration Celebration, held at the D Street Neighborhood Center, 1301 D St., Arcata, this Saturday, Nov. 9 from 6 to 9 p.m.

In 1977, EPIC was founded in Southern Humboldt County by residents concerned with the aerial spraying of herbicides by the timber industry. EPIC's work quickly expanded in response to proposed logging of old-growth along the Lost Coast and beyond.

At this year's Fall Celebration, EPIC will honor forest activist Rob DiPerna with the Sempervirens Lifetime Achievement Award. Rob joins local environmental icons such as Judi Bari, Sharron Duggan and Greg King who have previously won the award.

Rob was instrumental to EPIC's forest program, having reviewed and commented on hundreds of timber harvest plans in his two stints at EPIC. "Rob knows the Forest Practice Act and Rules better than any forester and brought this encyclopedic knowledge to the struggle to protect the North Coast's iconic redwood forests," said Tom Wheeler, executive director and staff attorney at EPIC. "While Rob was a great advocate, he was an even better coworker and friend. I am fortunate that we were able to work together for so many years."

The Fall Celebration will feature delicious dollar tacos from Esmeral-da's 2.0, music from the band Aloha 808 and a silent auction supporting EPIC's work.

Doors open at 6 p.m., followed by dinner at 6:30 p.m., the award ceremony at 7 p.m. and dancing to follow.
This event is expected to sell

On directing Vanya and Sonia and Masha and Spike by Christopher Durang

The theater director’s job is to bring together a group of humans with different talents to tell a story that creates an illusion for audiences to experience. Theater is an elusive, temporary and ancient art form that literally goes back to the beginning of written human history.

Theater is – has always been – a vehicle for humans to tell the stories that are of importance to them and to share those stories with others. From stories of hunts told around campfires, to Thespis stepping out of the Greek chorus, to Shakespeare and contemporaries telling their stories to kings and queens in the heavens and commoners in the pit, to the rich community of theater we have access to here in Humboldt County.

As John Steinbeck wrote, “The theater is the only institution in the world which has been dying for 4,000 years and has never succumbed. It requires tough and devoted people to keep it alive.”

For the last six weeks, I have had the joy and privilege of working with a crew of tough, devoted, talented and committed people as we prepare to bring Christopher Durang’s Vanya and Sonia and Masha and Spike to the Exit Theater stage for three weeks starting Friday, Nov. 8.

When Christina Augello, Exit Theater artistic director, sent this script to me last summer, she said, “People are going to need something that brings them together and gives them something to laugh about. They are going to need hope, no matter what happens on November 5.”

She was right; Vanya and Sonia and Masha and Spike is perfect for the occasion. It is a sweet, funny play with relatable characters. The story is one of hope in the face of national disconnection and the imminent doom of climate change. I deeply relate to what Vanya says near the end of the play, “The weather is changing, the culture is very weird. I’m not a conservative, but I do miss things in the past... I’m worried about the future.”

Vanya and Sonia and Masha and Spike is a comedy focusing on three siblings, Vanya (Daniel Baer), Sonia (Doranna Benker-Gelkey) and Masha (Heather Petersteiner), whose perspectives on their lives are altered over the course of a weekend in the house where they grew up in Bucks County, Pennsylvania.

Vanya and Sonia have lived in the house since they were children and spent most of their adult years caring for their now deceased parents. Their sister Masha is a famous film actress who brings her young lover Spike (Bryce Campos) to the house in order to attend a costume party at the nearby house where Dorothy Parker (the famous poet and writer of fiction, plays and screenplays) once lived.

Spike meets Nina (Amelia Resendez), a young, aspiring actress visiting her aunt and uncle next door, while swimming in the pond and invites her to the party, as well. Cassandra (Christina Augello) is Vanya and Sonia’s psychic and prophetic housekeeper.

Many people do not realize how much time and energy goes into creating a theatrical production. Even in a relatively small production like this one, the people working on it spend at least six weeks rehearsing. So, rehearsal alone adds up to about 90 hours. That does not include the time spent memorizing lines outside of rehearsal.

The production team also spends time outside of rehearsals gathering and altering costumes (Doranna Benker-Gelkey), meticulously designing the soundscape (Tammy Rae Scott), creating the poster (Carrissa Pinnel), and configuring the lights (Mobius). The director (Ruthi Engelke), the stage manager (Tasheena Evenson) and the producer (Christina Augello) work together to make sure all these elements come together to tell the story that the playwright has created.

Theater is a thoroughly collaborative art form and that is part of the beauty of it. We do this together, and in doing so form deep bonds that last beyond the stage. We all love rehearsal and performance.

Playwright Christopher Durang loosely based his story on the themes of dissatisfaction and missed opportunities of Anton Chekov’s plays. The three main characters were named after Chekov’s characters by their professor and community theater actor parents. Nina from next door happens to also have a Chekovian name.

Durang elevates Chekov’s themes beyond ennui with hilarious implications. We laugh because we recognize elements of ourselves and people we love.

Vanya and Sonia and Masha and Spike is a story of resilience, love, loss and compassion. Bringing this story to the Exit Theater stage and Spike by Christopher Durang performs Nov. 8 through 24; Fridays and Saturdays at 7 p.m. and Sundays at 2 p.m. Tickets are $20 and may be purchased online at

❖ CAMPUS AND COMMUNITY DIALOGUE ON RACE • VOICES OF OUR COMMUNITIES: RECLAIMING STORIES

Explore the history of indigenous Jews, the rise of campus antisemitism

JEWISH STUDENT GROUP AT CAL POLY HUMBOLDT

CAL POLY HUMBOLDT – The Jewish Student Group at Cal Poly Humboldt invites students, staff, faculty and community members to engage in productive conversations and peaceful dialogue at their event “What is Zionism? The Indigenous Peoples of Judea,” Friday, Nov. 8 from 4 to 5:30 p.m. at the Student Activities Center Banquet Hall on campus.

This event is part of Cal Poly Humboldt’s 26th Annual Campus and Community Dialogue on Race (CDOR), which this year features the theme “Voices of Our Communities: Reclaiming Stories.” Participants are invited to explore the history of the Jewish people and their journey back to their Indigenous homeland, and reflect on modern antisemitism on college campuses and around the world.

The Jewish Student Group wishes to shed light on the concept of Zionism – a decolonizing land-back movement, as it is perceived by the majority of Jews worldwide – and dispel the widespread misinformation regarding the origin of the Jewish people and the connection of the Jewish diaspora to the Israelites’ ancient homeland in the Middle East, dating back 3000 years.

The aim of the event is also to showcase that despite common beliefs among anti-Zionist activists, the Jews currently residing in Israel do not descend solely from Polish Jews, who are also referred to as Ashkenazi Jews.

Most Israelis descend from ancestors who were forced to migrate East to Asia and West to North Africa two millennia ago.

The latter are referred to mainly as Mizrahi Jews, while some, especially those who returned to Judea from Morocco, North Algeria and Tunisia, are called Sephardi Jews as their ancestors made it as far as Spain, but fled from Spain during the Inquisition.

November is celebrated in Israel and within Jewish circles around the world as Mizrahi-Sephardi Heritage Month with Nov. 30 designated as a Day of Commemoration for the 850,000 Jewish refugees who emigrated from Arab countries and Iran between 1950 and 1970 to escape persecution, which intensified after the establishment of Israel.

From antiquity to modern times, the Jewish people were forced to move around the Middle East, North Africa and Europe as a result of persecution and conquests by numerous imperialist forces: Babylonian, Persian, Macedonian, Roman and Arab, to name a few.

In the Maghreb, the western part of the Arab world, evidence indicates Judaism existed among the Berber community, also known as Amazigh or Imazighen.

These Indigenous North African ethnic groups pre-date the Arab migration to the region and are known to have mostly been Christian.

Muhammad’s Islamic conquests brought about the conversion of most Berbers to Islam.

The journey of the Jewish people throughout their existence and back to their original homeland fits perfectly with this year’s theme of CPH’s Dialogue on Race, “Voices of Our Communities: Reclaiming Stories.”

Consider attending this Jewish Student Group event this Friday at the CPH Campus to learn more. Some presentation materials will be available at humjews.org/students.

CAL POLY HUMBOLDT
CAL POLY CAMPUS – For the first time, an entire evening will be dedicated to physical theatre at Cal Poly Humboldt on Friday, Nov. 8 at the John Van Duzer Theatre.

Historically, physical theatre had a more frequent presence in the theatre department, but for the last decade or so it has been dormant – waiting in the wings to charge directly into the heart of the audience. The production, titled Voices of a Silent Stage: A Physical Theatre Performance, is under the direction of Michael Thomas, who holds an MFA in stage direction from Humboldt State University and studied mime at Northwestern University and with Etienne Decroux in Paris, eventually performing the

'Stories Behind the Songs' winter series

CREATIVE SANCTUARY
ARCATA – Creative Sanctuary is excited to announce a four-concert winter series, "Stories Behind The Songs" as a follow up of their wildly successful "In the Constellations Now" Jazz series! These concerts will feature a variety of solo, duo and ensemble performances with song selections based around a chosen theme. As the title suggests, host James Zeller's will relate entertaining and edifying stories about the songs, from the personal to the historical.

Zeller will be joined in each show by his trusted musical partner Katie Belknap for harmony vocals, occasional lead and guitar support. After opening the show with intimate solo and duo pieces, Zeller and Belknap will be joined by members of the "house band," sometimes known as the Humboldt Jazz Collective or the J Street Regulars, featuring Gabe Lubowe, piano; Lee Phillips or Danny Gaon, bass; Ramsey Issacs, drums; and others. The house band will also play opening and closing sets of instrumental Jazz on either end of the feature set. So look forward to a wildly varied and entertaining evening.

Shows will have an emphasis on Jazz standards, and they also will move tastefully through different genres and styles, with the thread tying them together being their stories, their relevance to the chosen theme, and Zeller's inimitable vocal stylings. Expect some of your favorites, lesser known gems and always a few choice original compositions by James and Katie.

The first show is Saturday, Nov. 23 with the theme, "Leaves and Sleeves: Songs of Autumn" (yes, "Autumn Leaves" will be on the set). Saturday, Nov. 21 will be "Spotlight on Chet Baker and other Capricorns," with a special look at the songbook of the great trumpet-playing vocalist and also Frank Sinatra, who must be considered one of his main influences. Saturday, Jan. 18's theme is "Winter Journeys." You'll take musical journeys to Brazil, Cuba, France, Africa and other "far off" places without leaving Humboldt County. Saturday, Feb. 15 will be all about love, running the gamut of associated emotions, as Little Jimmy Scott says in "Everybody's Somebody's Fool": "It's beautiful to watch love begin, but oh, so sad when it ends." The show's title will be, aptly, "My Funny Valentine", so expect an ample share of (much-needed) comic relief.

Doors open at 6:20 p.m., and the house band will play as folks arrive (get there early!) The "featured set" runs from 7 to 8:15 p.m., as described above. At 8:15 p.m. the musicians will take a brief break, the audience will have a moment to grab refreshments, limber up and mingle, and the band will proceed to play an hour set of mostly instrumental Jazz from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. for those who want to hang out in a looser, jazz club-type atmosphere, chat, meet, perhaps dance, play a game, or just sit and listen.

Tickets available now! Purchase your tickets ahead at the Sanctuary, a community-based art space in Arcata. Every show in the last series sold out! If you're interested in being a series sponsor, please be in touch with Katie at Sanctuary.Arcata@gmail.com.

The show takes place Sunday, Nov. 17 at 4 p.m.; Monday, Nov. 18 at 6 p.m.; Tuesday, Nov. 19 at 6 p.m.; Wednesday, Nov. 20 at 6 p.m. and Thursday, Nov. 21 at 6 p.m.

Love — Love in a bar — Love in this bar
We've seen hundreds of ignitions over 134 years in the Logger Bar and some wild misfires. There has been one fight in this bar since I've owned it. It was over a girl. You might say..."that's not original," but I think it is. It is always immediate, intimate, personal, urgent, timeless.

Written and directed by Michael Fields, Logger Love Stories features a veteran ensemble that includes, Cynthia Martels, Peggy Metzger, Shawn Wagner, Will English, Alyssa Hughlett, Evan Grande, Jeff Landen, Lily Rich and Biscuit the bar dog, and joining us for this production is the amazing David Powell and Alex Blouin. Our incomparable band includes: Marla Joy, Tim Randles, Jeff Kelley, and Mike Labolle. The scenography is by Lynnie Horrigan. Michael Foster is the light designer.

LONGSHADR is a production company started by Michael Fields in 2020 when he retired from Dell'Arte. The name references the long shadows that are cast in the winter when the sun dips to the horizon behind the hill and the dark of the days become longer until the light of late spring. It is about the hope, effort, and joy of moving out of the shadows and into the light. It is about collaborations that promote the health and creative community spirit of this place. It is about preparing and creating popular ("of the people"), place-inspired theatre for a new era.

In 2021, Longshadr produced MadSummer. In 2022 Longshadr produced The Logger Lear. The fiscal sponsor for Logger Love Stories is Blue Ox Village and Millworks. And partial support for this production also comes from the California Arts Council.

For more information, email longshadr@gmail.com or visit longshadr.com.

If we are so good at love, if we have figured it all out... we wouldn't continue to sing about it, dance about it, write about it and make glorious theatre about it. I think so much is written about love, because everyone wants it, but no one truly understands it.

It is an ongoing human mystery. Logger Love Stories is inspired by encounters that have happened in the bar. Some of them fall into deep human comedy. Some of them just fall deep. All of them have the possibility to resonate in our lives.

We promise you a rocking good time that will be full of "feels," laughs and live music. It is staged so everyone is up close in the Logger Bar, where the beer is colder than your ex's heart.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF

BETTINA RHEIN-SCHMIDT
CASE NO.: PR2400284
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: BETTINA RHEIN-SCHMIDT
A Petition for Probate has been filed by MICHELLE RHEIN-SCHMIDT in the Superior Court of California, County of HUMBOLDT.
The Petition for Probate requests that: MICHELLE RHEIN-SCHMIDT be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take any actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows:
Date: NOV. 21, 2024
Time: 9:30 A.M.
Dept.: 4
Address of court: Superior Court of California, County of Humboldt, 825 Fifth Street, Eureka, CA, 95501.

COURT MAY BE CLOSED TO THE PUBLIC DUE TO THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC. PLEASE VISIT <https://www.humboldt.courts.ca.gov> FOR INFORMATION ON HOW TO PARTICIPATE IN AN ONLINE VIDEO HEARING.
If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a formal Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Unless you take action to protect your property, it may be sold at a public sale. If you need an explanation of the nature of the proceeding against you, you should contact a lawyer. A public auction sale to the highest bidder for cash, cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, check drawn by a state or federal credit union, or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, or savings association, or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the Financial Code and authorized to do business in this state will be held by the duly appointed trustee as shown below, of all right, title, and interest conveyed to and now held by the trustee in the hereinafter described property under and pursuant to a Deed of Trust described below. The sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, expressed or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the note(s) secured by the Deed of Trust, with interest and late charges thereon, as provided in the note(s), advances, under the terms of the Deed of Trust, interest thereon, fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee for the total amount (at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale) reasonably estimated to be set forth below. The amount may be greater on the day of sale. Original Trustor(s): Kaya Phelps-Fossett, a Single Man Duly Appointed Trustee: WT Capital Lender Services, a California corporation Recorded 5/25/2018, as Instrument No. 2018-009614, of Official Records in the office of the Recorder of Humboldt County, California Date of Sale: 11/13/2024 at 10:00 AM Place of Sale: At the front entrance to the County Courthouse, 825 5TH Street, Eureka, Ca 95501 Amount of unpaid balance and other charges: $190,842.77 Estimated Street Address or other common designation of real property: 28908 Dyerville Loop Rr, Garberville, California 95542 Legal Description: The land referred to herein below is situated in the unincorporated area in County of Humboldt, State of California, and is described as follows: Parcel One Parcel 9 as shown on parcel map no. 819, on file in the recorder's office of Humboldt County in book 7 of parcel maps, pages 45 to 52, inclusive. Parcel Two A non-exclusive right of way for ingress, egress and public utilities and pipelines over and in all roads shown on said map. A.P.N.: 223-101-005 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address or other common designation, if any, shown above. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. In the event that the Deed of Trust described in this Notice of Trustee's Sale is secured by real property containing one to four single-family residences, the following notices are provided pursuant to the provisions of Civil Code section 2924f. Notice to potential bidders: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. Bidders at the trustee auction must make cashier's checks payable to WT Capital. Third party cashier's checks will not be accepted. Notice to property owner: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 559-228-8393 or visit this internet website www.wtcap.com, using the file number assigned to this case 24-14211-104. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Notice to tenant: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (559) 228-8393, or visit this internet website www.wtcap.com, using the file number assigned to this case 24-14211-104 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. RN&SP Candlelight Walk

REDWOOD PARKS CONSERVANCY CRESCENT CITY – Redwood Parks Conservancy (RPC) invites the public to the 35th Annual Candlelight Walk Through the Ancient Redwoods on Dec. 6 and 7 from 4 to 7:30 p.m. each night (doors open at 3:30 p.m.). This popular fundraising event benefits RPC and the parks it supports, including Redwood National and State Parks. Attendance is limited to 300 guests per night, and tickets tend to sell out quickly. The event, held in partnership with California State Parks and the National Park Service, features a walk through Prairie Creek Redwoods State Park's ADA-accessible Revelation Trail, lit by luminaria. Local storytellers will share winter, holiday- and redwood-themed stories. After the walk, enjoy hot cider and cookies at the visitor center. A silent auction will also be held to support RPC. Rain or shine. Pets are not permitted. Tickets: $25 per person; children 12 and under attend for free, but each child must have a ticket. Tickets on sale at eventbrite.com/o/redwood-parks-conservancy-72844133383. bit.ly/candlelight-walk.
